Dear Valued Customer,

Clorox Healthcare Company's mission is to eliminate the environment as a source of infection. Today healthcare professionals in more than 4,300 hospitals rely on Clorox Healthcare disinfectants to help them with this enormous task and you have played a huge role through the distribution process to get it to every floor of every hospital. We are all being called upon today to do even more. As a response to this, Clorox has taken the following steps:

- Clorox has increased staffing, raw materials and production capacity to maximize supply.
- Clorox has prioritized critical disinfecting items in an effort to minimize plant changeover and disruption leading to an increase in total production output.
- Clorox has operationalized a formal supply allocation process designed to manage the significant spike in orders vs. inventory. Customer allocations are based on historical customer shipments and increased to reflect full capacity output. Initial allocation will focus on Disinfecting Wipes and Sprays, however we anticipate this to evolve and expand as the situation is quite fluid.

At this point, end user and consumer health is our top priority as we manage this difficult situation. As we do our best to allocate product appropriately to our direct buying customers, we are asking for your partnership in doing the same thing to your customers and throughout the supply chain.

I need your help. I am requesting that our redistributor, distributor and wholesale partners take every step they can to ensure disinfecting products are going to Healthcare Facilities and existing end users that are facing this crisis. This includes close coding the attached SKU's and only opening it to approved distributors. It is simply critical we have your help given we can't track nor control all product to the end user. This is where our customers play a critical role not just for their business but for the public health at large, and we are thankful for your partnership in this effort.

Sincerely,

Heath Rigsby
Vice President of Sales
The Clorox Professional Company
